

2021 Virtual Conference of Indiana Soil & Water Conservation Districts

Virtual Trade Show Opportunity

January 11-13, 2021

This January the Annual Conference of Indiana Soil & Water Conservation Districts (SWCDs) will bring together over 450 farmers, landowners, agronomists, advisors, and conservationists for three days of a virtual conference. This time will allow attendees to gather online from anywhere in the world for twelve breakout and six roundtable sessions along with an inspirational opening session, networking, Exhibitor Exploration and more!

Join us as an EXHIBITOR!

The “#IN Conservation Together” Conference will provide connection, education and a virtual trade show. There are several opportunities to promote your organization during our Exhibitor Exploration time each day of the conference with a tradeshow booth space. During this virtual tradeshow, exhibitors can post videos, demonstrations, set up one-on-one meetings, upload documents and your organization’s contact information.

The sky’s the limit!

Virtual Trade Show Benefits

Be a part of the Indiana Soil and Water Conservation Districts annual conference virtually in 2021! This virtual event will be an excellent opportunity to connect with 450 conservationists representing rural, urban, and suburban natural resources interests in Indiana. Conference attendees represent land users from across the natural resources spectrum: staff and board and associate supervisors from county Soil and Water Conservation Districts; farmers; watershed organization staff; technical resource staff from state and federal conservation agencies; and other representatives from the Indiana Conservation Partnership.

- Brand your booth
- Live chat with attendees
- Schedule one-on-one appointments with attendees
- Receive real time data on who visits your booth
- Upload videos, demonstrations and documents in your booth

Additional Benefits include:

- Organization name/logo on conference webpage
- Organization name/logo on conference app
- One complimentary conference registration (Note: opportunity exists for additional complimentary conference registrations as a conference sponsor)
